Otto Gebhardt III Named 2015 Developer Of The Year

Madison, WI- Publishers of the venerable Milwaukee, WI based construction newspaper, the Daily Reporter, have awarded the 2015 Developer of the Year honors to Otto Gebhardt III of Gebhardt Development.

Gebhardt Development has been instrumental in re-defining a new urban infill nexus in the heart of Madison's Capitol East District. Building on under-utilized and challenging former industrial sites on the isthmus, Gebhardt Development has completed the Constellation, a 220-unit, high rise, and currently under construction is a larger and more sustainably designed mixed-use project, the Galaxie, which will contain the crown jewel of urban living, a full service Grocery Store.

For 2016, Gebhardt Development will have an opportunity to expand on success in the Capitol East District with another urban infill project, which will include StartingBlock Madison, an entrepreneurial hub where entrepreneurs, investors, advisors and community members can connect, share innovative ideas, as well as a music/presentation venue and office space for the next generation of Wisconsin business leaders.

Gebhardt Development has enjoyed a very productive relationship with Bark Design, another Madison, WI, based company, for comprehensive Project Management and Architecture for projects in the Capitol East District.

About Gebhardt Development: Gebhardt Development is a Madison based, family owned real estate and Development Company, founded by Otto Gebhardt III in 1995. City officials have recognized and awarded Gebhardt's effort to create future forward projects that bridge neighborhoods and generations by providing a variety of housing and commercial environments throughout Dane County, WI for the last 20 years.
